

ADE Bahamas Cookie Policy

At ADE Holdings Ltd., including all its related companies and affiliates (referred to as 'ADE Holdings', 'our', 'us'), our commitment is towards maintaining clarity and openness regarding the collection and use of your information. This Cookie Usage Policy (referred to as "the Policy") aims to thoroughly inform you about our use of cookies (and similar technologies) and when they are utilised. This Policy is relevant for any interaction with ADE Holdings' websites, applications, or services that either directly link to this Policy or incorporate it by reference.

Understanding Cookies:

Cookies are small text files and similar technologies designed to store information on your device when you access a website, use applications, or engage with services. Our cookies might be saved on your device during interactions with ADE Holdings and our websites. These cookies are instrumental for recognising your device, securing access to our websites, analysing user interaction with our services, and delivering personalised advertising.

There are two types of cookies: permanent (or persistent) cookies, which stay on your computer until they expire or are manually deleted, and temporary (or session) cookies, which disappear once you close your browser. ADE Holdings employs both first-party cookies (which we manage) and third-party cookies (managed by external parties).

Cookie Usage at ADE Holdings:

Our Privacy Policy outlines the various objectives for our cookie usage, which, depending on your consent, includes enhancing your service experience, promoting our services, and safeguarding your account.

Cookies facilitate your recognition upon visiting our sites, remembering your preferences, and providing a customised experience. They also enhance the speed and security of your interactions with ADE Holdings and support our ability to deliver advertisements on and off our sites.

We categorise cookies into five types: strictly necessary, performance, functional, targeting, and social media cookies.

Strictly Necessary Cookies: Essential for website functionality, enabling a full-service experience, including user registration and login. These cookies are automatically active and do not require your consent, though their blockage may affect website performance.

Performance Cookies: These cookies gather data on user interactions, identifying the most frequented pages and any error messages received. Utilised for statistical analysis, they aid in improving our services.

Functional Cookies: Enhancing service personalisation, these cookies remember user preferences and settings, offering a more tailored experience. They may be disabled, potentially affecting service functionality.

Targeting Cookies: Set by advertising partners, these cookies build a profile of your interests to deliver relevant ads on other sites. Disabling them results in less personalised advertising.

Social Media Cookies: Enable content sharing on social networks, possibly tracking your browser activity across other sites to profile your interests.

To manage your cookie preferences, including opting out of certain data uses, visit our Cookie Preference Center.
